I never had the honor to meet you in life, but you are my favorite painter. Ever. I think of you as the new millennium's Van Gogh. I hope that's okay. I wish I knew where your paintings ended up. If anyone knows what happened to her portfolio, please email me, I'd love to have one of her works. This one is probably the happiest place I'll ever see. Legends never die. Not really. ~ ab@donotpay.com

'Elizabeth shared herself through her art and her love for others. A compassionate, caring, independent and thoughtful individual. She chased down her dreams, lived a full life with many happy memories of family & friends. Rest easy Lizard, we all love you. Do not stand at my grave and weep; I am not there. I do not sleep. I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glint on snow. I am the sun on ripened grain. I am the gentle Autumn rain. When you awake in the morning hush, I am the swift, uplifting rush Of quiet birds in circling flight. I am the soft starlight at night. Do not stand at my grave and cry; I am not there. I did not die.'
